

Sinclair
Broadcasting's
decision to air a
one-sided anti-Kerry
"documentary",
funded by a
political smear
group, on their stations days before the election is a
clear example of the dangers of media
consolidation.

The FCC has insisted
that relaxing media
consolidation rules
is in our best interests. This action is in NO ONE'S best interest.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. But when large companies
control the airwaves, we get more of what's good for the bottom line
and less of what we need for our democracy.

Sinclair's actions
show why we need to strengthen media
ownership rules, not weaken them. They show why the license
renewal process
needs to involve
more than a returned postcard. Thank you.
